BIOGRAPHY

From familial origins steeped in the tech and aerospace industry, Andrew seeks to apply his own creative twist to the storied relationship between filmmaking and technology. Influenced by his background in robotics, production, and even foley design, Andrew looks to push the boundaries of creative storytelling with a respect for the bleeding edge of the industry.

At heart, aside from being a tech nerd, Andrew is a true Boy Scout (an Eagle Scout at that), a hockey obsessive (scored his first goal at six years old), a landscape photographer, and his guilty pleasure is the never-ending quest to perfect the art of homemade cold-brew coffee.
